This booklet is the controversial excerpt from the forthcoming (Oct 2011) book HIGHWAYS OF MAN - Man, Community and Living the American Dream gives Steven's conclusions from his extensive research into the history of Man and traveling the highways of the world searching for understanding as to why we cannot maintain peace with love and communal support on our planet. This booklet offers Steven's insights into human nature as well as the structures, such as the global banking order, organized religions and ignorance, in our societies that have kept us bound, preventing us as One consciousness from moving into peace. Steven also gives the prescription for us to walk into a new One World Order that allows for the dignity of all.
